Pantanal

Pousada Araras Eco Lodge — Mato Grosso, Brazil

The Pantanal is the world's largest tropical wetland — 150,000 km² of rivers, lagoons and forest teeming with wildlife. It holds the highest concentration of jaguars on Earth, over 650 bird species, giant otters, tapirs and caimans. The open landscape makes wildlife viewing far easier than in the Amazon.

Our base is Pousada Araras Eco Lodge — a 2,800-hectare private reserve just 2 hours from Cuiabá airport. Certified by Roteiros de Charme and Turismo Responsável, it offers bilingual naturalist guides, full board, and up to three guided activities per day in groups of maximum 10 guests.

BEST SEASONS

Apr–Jun — Dry season. Spectacular scenery, fish concentrations, excellent general wildlife.

Jul–Oct — Jaguar season. 90%+ sighting probability on the Jaguar Express.

Nov–Dec — Bird nesting, lush green landscape, fewer visitors.

ITINERARY

Day 1 — Arrival & First Safari

Transfer from Cuiabá airport along the Transpantaneira — a photographic safari in itself, with frequent stops for wildlife along the way. On arrival at Araras, an introductory walk explains the lodge's conservation projects. At sunset, climb the 12-metre Garça Viewpoint tower. After dinner: a night walk under the stars to observe nocturnal Pantanal wildlife.

Day 2 — River Safari & Night Truck Safari

Morning boat excursion on the Rio Clarinho through gallery forest. Giant otters live here — with luck you'll see them playing in family groups. Piranha fishing is a memorable challenge. Afternoon walk to the 25m Bugio Tower with panoramic views over the floodplain. After dinner: night safari by open truck in search of nocturnal animals.

Morning horseback ride on purebred Pantaneiro horses through varied habitats including flooded areas. Afternoon walk along the Rondon Trail to the 13.5m Tuiuiú Tower, where a nesting jabiru stork couple can often be spotted.
